WHEN THE SPELLS ARE ON HIM

Warden Coffin Says He Will Not Allow Brute Force to Be Used Except to Save Life—He Talked of the Columbian Demon.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 5. — [Special.]—Warden Coffin is doing all in his power to make the hard lines of Demon Marlatt a little less hard, and will use every effort to win the man by kindness.

"We could go into the cell and beat the man half to death, but it does no good. We could kill him, but what good would that do? We could overpower him and run the risk of some good man's life to show the mere exercise of brute force in his case," says the warden time and again when talking of the case.

"That would not be right nor proper and it shall not be done." The officials consider that they have a charge placed on their hands by the state of Ohio and they are conscientiously trying in a humane manner to fulfill that charge. There is no doubt, however, that if it is considered necessary to go into the cage and get the weapon, that Captain Langenberger or any one of a dozen men would go. It is also as sure that if Marlatt attacked him, as he surely would, he would be shot dead. His case is as near an actual Doctor Jeekyll and Mr. Hyde as can be imagined. He would not desire to hurt a hair in the warden's head nor would he desire to attack either Captain Langenberger or Guard Payne, yet if they were to go into his cell he would kill them from irresistible impulse as surely as he would any one of his imagined enemies.

Warden Coffin will not permit any inhumanity to be shown the man nor will he allow brute force to be used in his case except to save life. Neither will he allow any of his men to unnecessarily place his life in jeopardy for the simple pleasure of showing an irresponsible brute that he can handle him exactly as he wishes, and every human man who has expressed an opinion in the hearing of the writer is with him in this.

It is believed that the man should be somewhere else. He is not insane and should not be placed in an asylum. He is not morally responsible for his actions more than a cat which kills a bird, or a tiger that springs upon a man considering him his lawful prey. While he bears the semblance of a man, however, the warden and his officers believe that they would not be justified in killing him as they would the cat who leaped on a pet bird or the tiger who had eaten a man."

MORE TROUBLES.

Frank Magowan Has Not Reached the End of His String.

The following special from Trenton will be read with interest by many persons in the city:

"The Trenton Savings Fund society this afternoon filed a bill in chancery to foreclose a mortgage of $115,000 on ex-Mayor Frank A. Magowan's handsome residence on North Clinton avenue. The bill charges that large arrearages of interest are due on the mortgage, and recites that since June 28, 1896, there have been secured against Magowan in the supreme court judgments amounting to over $190,000.

"The bill prays that the house be sold to satisfy the mortgage. Ex-Sheriff Ege has advertised for sale next Tuesday the furniture of Magowan's house, his horse and carriage and other personal property, to satisfy some of the judgments referred to in the suit."

HE TOOK THE COAL.

But Told His Neighbor All About It After the Cold Snap.

It is related that a poor man living in an alley near the house of a well known citizen of means, helped himself to the latter's coal during the cold snap. He was out of employment, and did not have money enough to purchase coal, so he did what he considered the next best thing. The rich man discovered his loss, found what had become of his coal, and said nothing. Last night the other went to his house and told him all about it, saying that he now had work and would pay for the coal out of his first wages.

IN DEFENSE OF DR. N. W. TRACY.

The Womans' Christian Temperance Union Speaks Out.

We, the members of the Womans' Christian Temperance union of East Liverpool, having full faith in Dr. N. W. Tracy, the temperance evangelist, and believing him to be a consistent Christian gentleman, and a very able, efficient and eloquent advocate of gospel temperance, in its most practical form; and believing him to have been unjustly attacked and maligned while in East Liverpool, and an attempt made to rob him of his good name; first by a paper called the Mansfield News, which we believe to be merely a tool of the liquor league; and secondly by men who could not produce a single shred of proof when called upon to substantiate their assertions, but were compelled to fall back upon the unstable and insecure foundation known as "Madame Rumor," a very unsafe and unreliable and extremely talkative and gossipy old dame; and believing that a friend in need is a friend indeed, therefore be it

Resolved, That we are very glad that Dr. N. W. Tracy came to East Liverpool under our auspices, especially as we know that he, under the blessing of God, accomplished great good, which shall be more fully known in the great day of reckoning. And be it further Resolved, That we, the Womans' Christian Temperance union of East Liverpool, extend to Dr. N. W. Tracy our most cordial sympathy and earnest, heartfelt prayers for his success in the terrible battle against the liquor league of these United States, bidding him God speed in the holy cause; bidding him to never grow weary in the grand work to which he has devoted his life; bidding him remember that the Master has said: "Vengeance is mine, I will repay." Bidding him remember that all things cometh to him who waiteth patiently upon the Lord, in the performance of right, when all enemies, of high or low estate, shall be forced to do the right or bear the punishment due them.

MRS. CARRIE SWAN,
MRS. D. McDONALD,
MRS. EMMA PALMER,
Committee.

THEIR HANDS FULL.

Railroad Detectives Have All They Can Do

The railroad detectives have their hands full looking after tramps and others who would ride without paying. Every freight train carries its complement of hobos, and a dirty lot they are. Some arrests are made, but the tramps are wary.

Detective Moore has been sent to this part of the road, and Detective Meehan, who formerly looked after this city, is being kept in the Wellsville yards, where there is ample work to keep one man engaged.

GOOD READING.

Report of the Tariff Hearings Is Made Public.

The official report of the tariff hearings before the ways and means committee has been issued from the government printing office, and a number of copies have been sent to this city. Schedule B, earthenware and glassware make up a volume of 290 pages, and is decidedly interesting reading matter. The portion relating to crockery shows that Congressman Taylor and the potters made out a strong case in favor of an increase in the tariff.

KILLED A FOX.

An Old Woman's Feat Near the Town of Summitville.

Mrs. Sallie Johnson, who is 83 years old and lives near Summitville, killed a fox one day this week. Three dogs chased the fox, and hoping to escape it ran under a pig pen near Mrs. Johnson's home. She saw the happening, and in spite of her age secured a stout stick, drove the dogs away, and killed the fox. She exhibited the trophy proudly to her friends, and received the congratulations of all. Mrs. Johnson is well known in this city.

POSTPONED AGAIN.

Old Cases Did Not Come to Trial Today.

The case of the Pittsburg Supply company against J. M. Bursner for $180.16, to have been heard this morning, was postponed for the fourth time by Squire Manley owing to some difficulty between the attorneys in the case. It will be heard next Friday.

The case of Albert D. Cable versus Harrison Rinehart for $41 was postponed yesterday afternoon for the third time. It will be heard Friday.

PLAYED WITH THE BOYS.

One of Their Number Masqueraded in Woman's Clothes.

A young man appeared on the ice at the island last night attired in woman's clothes. It was very dark and almost impossible to recognize anyone, and a number of young men were introduced and skated with what they supposed to be a young lady from Pittsburg. It was not long, however, until the majority of people became aware of the disguise, and the supposed young lady was compelled to leave the ice.

NO DEAL THIS TIME

The Zanesville Company Has Gone to Pieces.

PRESIDENT CLINTON WITHDREW

No One Will Say Much About It, but It Is Sure That Another Organization Must Be Formed Before Liverpool Men Make Ware on the Muskingum.

It developed today that the East Liverpool operative potters, who organized for the purpose of purchasing the plant of the old American Encaustic Tile company and transforming it into a white ware pottery, had given up the idea of moving to Zanesville and the company had gone to pieces.

According to the arrangement three members of the concern were to be in Zanesville last Monday for the purpose of closing the deal. A meeting was held last Saturday night at the residence of a leading stockholder, and it was expected at that time to finish all preliminaries, and give the men who were to leave town their final instructions. The stockholders were all present and feeling hopeful, when Thomas Clinton, president of the company, announced his withdrawal. It came as a great surprise, and there was much discussion. It was finally decided to abandon the plan. The stockholders have little to say, and Mr. Clinton refuses to talk.

It was learned from a source which cannot but be reliable that opinion on several points was by no means unanimous. There was a lack of concord from the start, and one stockholder remarked today that he was very glad it had developed before the pottery started. It is said there is still some chance for the purchase of the plant in Zanesville, but a new company must be formed before it is done.

CAN'T BLAME FINLEY.

What a Resident Says of Dirty Streets in the City.

"I would like to say a few words in defense of Commissioner Finley in regard to the dirty streets," said a prominent citizen to a reporter this morning. "It is not the fault of the commissioner the streets are dirty, but the fault of the system. Every business house when it is cleaned sweeps everything into the gutter. I have seen these streets clean on Saturday evening, and on Monday morning they are as dirty as ever. Let the officials enforce the ordinance in regard to throwing paper, glass and other rubbish on the streets, and I will guarantee you the streets will be kept clean. It is not on account of a lack of funds, but a lack of the proper enforcement of an ordinance is why we do not have clean streets. There is not a town the size of this in the state where people are permitted to throw rubbish on the streets as they are here."

CREEPING UPWARD.

Is the Shipping Record at the Freight Depot.

The shipping record at the freight depot shows that the production of ware is steadily increasing. For several weeks following the resumption of shipments after the holidays the average was not much more than a dozen cars a day. This week it is different, and the increase is noticeable. Yesterday 19 cars, filled to the top with ware, were sent out, and the prospects are very good for a big shipment today.

MADE PASSENGERS JUMP.

Young People and an Electric Current Caused Amusement.

Young people on a street car last evening put in the time very pleasantly. By laying their skates against a heater, and placing on them one hand, they were prepared for mischief. Catching some unsuspecting person by the ear with the other hand they invariably attained the desired end. The injured party would jump, look surprised, and wonder what happened, while the passengers laughed heartily.

A NEW GAME LAW.

Pennsylvania Legislators Will Make Another Statute.

A bill is now before the Pennsylvania legislature which if passed will affect the hunters of this city. It provides that no quail or pheasants can be killed except between Oct. 15 and Dec. 15, and inflicts a heavy penalty for violation. Quail may be trapped from Jan. 1 to Feb. 15 in order to keep them alive during the winter months.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, FEB. 5

OHIO can boast of 650,000 men capable of doing military duty, and they are good men too.

The Cubans are wise in their determination to put no faith in the promised reforms. They have known Spain too long not to feel that it is the prince of liars.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR JONES called on Governor Bushnell yesterday, and immediately the Democratic press of the state announced that the Youngstown man would succeed Senator Sherman.

The presence of the venerable mother
of Major McKinley at the inauguration will recall to many a mind that other time when a son of Ohio, surrounded by all the honor the nation could give, did not forget his mother.

The improvement in business continues, and there is every reason to believe there will be no cessation in the advance of prosperity. The country feels better now that a Republican administration is almost here.

It was discovered in Cleveland the other day that the law bearing on child labor was inoperative and could not be enforced. The law is conflicting and muddled, and Police Prosecutor Kennedy refused to take action looking toward its enforcement.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND, it is believed,
will veto the immigration bill, and is quoted as saying that "vicious and inhuman legislation should have no place on our statute books." "Inhuman" is good when we remember that it comes from a man who, by his tariff policy, has been directly responsible for a great deal of suffering in this country.

THE CHICAGO IDEA.

Chicago has wearied of giving valuable franchises for nothing, and when the General Electric company asked the privilege of operating a line, refused to grant the right until the corporation had agreed to pay five per cent of the gross earnings during the second five years, seven per cent for the third five, and 10 per cent for the last. It is estimated the city will realize $1,000,000 during the 20 years the franchise is in force.
If the precedent is maintained when other franchises expire, within 10 years Chicago will obtain annually from this source alone $1,500,000, it is estimated.

WANTED—LAWS THAT WILL STAND.

It costs the state of Ohio a good many dollars every year for the laws enacted by the legislature, and there can be no
good reason why these laws when once prepared and passed are not made to bear the test of time. There is no complaint as to quantity, but there is ample room for improvement in quality. The months following every session are filled with opinions of the supreme court declaring this or that law, passed ofttimes with a great flourish, unconstitutional. Serious defects are found in others, and they become no more valuable than the paper on which they are written. A commonwealth which each year produces the great men sent out from Ohio is surely capable of placing some statesmen in its legislature, but who will deny that very many senators and representatives are more fitted for almost any other occupation than that of making laws? The record of the past proves it. What the state needs is a class of legislators who are not actuated by the sentiments so often found about the capitol at Columbus, men who will do their duty and do it well. If incompetency has been the cause, the state owes a duty to itself in refusing further to honor incompetent men. Derided and made the butt of many a joke, as it often is, the legislature is a most important part of the state government, and if we want it to do the work for which it was intended it must be made up of men well qualified for that work.

WELLSVILLE.

THE YORKSHIRE EVANGELIST

swayed the People by His Splendid Eloquence.

At the Evangelical church last night the boy preacher gave way to the great Yorkshire evangelist, Rev. Isaac Naylor.
The sermon was of a preliminary character, and was mainly directed to the members and Christians of all denominations preparatory to the work that is to follow. To attempt to give a synopsis of his brilliant sermon would be futile, as no pen can portray his splendid eloquence. Such a masterly effort in the presentation of the grand truths of the Scriptures was never listened to in this city. He seemed to sway his audience as one man as the sparkling gems rolled from his lips in almost a ceaseless flow of eloquence.
So enthusiastic became an East Liverpool visitor that he immediately tendered the great divine the use of the East Liverpool opera house if he would go to that city. The services closed with an impressive altar service, in which scores of people took part. Doctor Naylor will not fill the pulpit Saturday night.

The News of Wellsville.

The little child of C. Kemp was buried today at 10 o'clock in Spring Hill cemetery.

The child of Mr. and Mrs. Moore, of Fourteenth street, was buried this afternoon.

Two children of Mr. and Mrs. W. H.
Doughaday are very ill. One has the measles.

Almost all the family of A. Ragar are ill with measles.

Robert Wilson was too ill to attend to his duties at the shops yesterday.

Mrs. George Hamilton is very sick, and Mr. Hamilton is out of the city on business.

J. M. Russell has been unable to be at his usual place of business.

The M. E. church was crowded to its utmost capacity yesterday evening. Dr.
Reager is conducting successful services.

Genial Pat Duffy has been promoted, and in future will have a through run to Cleveland, to which place he will soon move his family. While his many friends rejoice at his good fortune they regret that it will take him from Wells-ville.

The report spread over this city and East Liverpool that A. G. Mackenzie had withdrawn from the race for county treasurer proves to be unfounded. Mr.
Mackenzie says the report was not authorized, and that he is in the race to stay.

John R. Martin will remove from his place of residence on Main street, and Mr. Mass will again occupy his property.

Reverend Bower delivered a strong sermon from the subject "Hell" at the Christian church last evening. His discourse throughout was full of logic and good doctrine, and his efforts were surely appreciated. Tonight his subject will be "Heaven."

Henry Watterson will lecture to the Grand Army at the Cooper Opera House on the 20th, on the subject, "The Life of Abraham Lincoln."

Rivermen were using dynamite on the ice above the wharf yesterday to free the coal barges.

Charley Stevenson has returned from Cleveland.

John McNutt returned from Lisbon today.

ONE OF NELSON'S CAPTAINS.

A New Yorker Commanded a British Ship in the Battle of the Nile.

The fifth ship was the Theseus, Captain Ralph Willett Miller. This gentleman, whom after his premature death Nelson styled "the only truly virtuous man I ever knew," was by birth a New Yorker, whose family had been loyalists during the American Revolution. A letter from him to his wife gives an account of the fight which is at once among the most vivid and from the professional standpoint the most satisfactory of those which have been transmitted to us. Of the Theseus' entrance into the battle he says:

"In running along the enemy's line in the wake of the Zealous and Goliath, I observed their shot sweep just over us.
And knowing well that at such a moment Frenchmen would not have coolness enough to change their elevation, I closed them suddenly, and, running under the arch of their shot, reserved my fire, every gun being loaded with two and some with three round shot, until I had the Guerrier's masts in a line and her jibboom about six feet clear of our rigging. We then opened with such effect that a second breath could not be drawn before her main and miz-zen masts were also gone. This was precisely at sunset, or 44 minutes past 6.
Then passing between her and the Zealous and as close as possible round the off side of the Goliath, we anchored by the stern exactly in a line with her and abreast the Spartiate. We had not been many minutes in action with the Spar-tiate when we observed one of our ships (and soon after knew her to be the Vanguard, placed herself so directly opposite to us on the outside of her that I desisted firing on her, that I might not do mischief to our friends, and directed every gun before the mainmast on the Aquilon (fourth French) and all about it on the Conquerant, giving up my proper bird to the admiral."—"Nelson in the Battle of the Nile," by Captain Mahan, in Century.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., FRIDAY, FEB. 5

Ohio can boast of 650,000 men capable
of doing military duty, and they are good men too.

The Cubans are wise in their determination to put no faith in the promised reforms. They have known Spain too long not to feel that it is the prince of liars.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR Jones called
on Governor Bushnell yesterday, and
immediately the Democratic press of the state announced that the Youngstown man would succeed Senator
Sherman.

The presence of the venerable mother
of Major McKinley at the inauguration
will recall to many a mind that other
time when a son of Ohio, surrounded by
all the honor the nation could give, did
not forget his mother.

The improvement in business continues, and there is every reason to believe there will be no cessation in the advance of prosperity. The country
feels better now that a Republican administration is almost here.

It was discovered in Cleveland the other day that the law bearing on child labor was inoperative and could not be enforced. The law is conflicting and muddled, and Police Prosecutor Kennedy refused to take action looking
toward its enforcement.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND, it is believed,
will veto the immigration bill, and is
quoted as saying that "vicious and in-
human legislation should have no place
on our statute books." "Inhuman" is
good when we remember that it comes
from a man who, by his tariff policy,
has been directly responsible for a great deal of suffering in this country.

THE CHICAGO IDEA.

Chicago has wearied of giving valuable franchises for nothing, and when the General Electric company asked the privilege of operating a line, refused to grant the right until the corporation had
agreed to pay five per cent of the gross
earnings during the second five years,
seven per cent for the third five, and 10 per cent for the last. It is estimated
the city will realize $1,000,000 during
the 20 years the franchise is in force.
If the precedent is maintained when
other franchises expire, within 10 years
Chicago will obtain annually from this source alone $1,500,000, it is estimated.

WANTED—LAWS THAT WILL STAND.

It costs the state of Ohio a good many
dollars every year for the laws enacted
by the legislature, and there can be no
good reason why these laws when once
prepared and passed are not made to bear the test of time. There is no complaint as to quantity, but there is ample room for improvement in quality. The
months following every session are filled with opinions of the supreme court declaring this or that law, passed constituting with a great flourish, unconstitutional. Serious defects are found in others, and they become no more valuable than the paper on which they are written. A commonwealth which each year produces the great men sent out
from Ohio is surely capable of placing
some statesmen in its legislature, but
who will deny that very many senators
and representatives are more fitted for
almost any other occupation than that of making laws? The record of the past proves it. What the state needs is a class of legislators who are not actuated
by the sentiments so often found about
the capitol at Columbus, men who will do their duty and do it well. If incompetency has been the cause, the state
owes a duty to itself in refusing further
to honor incompetent men. Derided
and made the butt of many a joke, as it
often is, the legislature is a most important part of the state government,
and if we want it to do the work for which it was intended it must be made up of men well qualified for that work.

THE ROBIN HOOD CONCERT.

It Was a Pleasant Event, and Made Money For the High School.

The Robin Hood concert given by Professor Harper's class and the high school at the Association Auditorium last evening was a pleasant event, and heard by a large crowd. Only the best selections were chosen for the evening, and they were splendidly given. Professor Harper was assisted by Miss Luthringer, Miss Margaret Laughlin, Miss Ormes, Mrs. Charles Bowman, Miss Barlow, Mr. Cartwright, Mr. Eckler, Mr. Leith, Mr. Campbell, Mr. Wheatley, Mr. McIntosh, Mr. Bowman and Mr. McKeever. The numbers were well rendered, and the chorus singing came very much in the nature of a surprise. A goodly sum was netted for the piano fund.

STRUCK BY A LOG.

Edward Hickman's Knee Was Badly Hurt.

While working in a saw mill on the farm of John Gaston, a few miles north of this city, yesterday, Edwin Hickman met with an accident. One end of a heavy log, sawed in two, fell and struck him on the leg. The knee cap was displaced. The injured man was borne to a house near, and Doctor Vale, of Fredricktown, summoned. Hickman swore he would kill the doctor if he touched his injury, but the latter placed the suffering man under the influence of an anesthetic and soon replaced the knee cap. Hickman is resting easier today.

WEAR AND TEAR

Is Too Much For Small Roads to Make Money.

The East Liverpool and Wellsville electric railway is to be sold under foreclosure proceedings brought by the Cleveland Savings and Trust company. The interurban or small city electric road doesn't seem to be a paying investment anywhere; we presume because the wear and tear is so great, thus causing rapid deterioration or else extraordinary expense for what should be ordinary repairs. This caused the failure of the original street railway company of Steubenville.—Steubenville Gazette.

NOT YET DECIDED

Whether the Wellsville Electric Plant Will be Sold.

A story was in circulation yesterday which said that the Wellsville electric plant would be sold to the gas company within a short time. When questioned about the matter today R. L. Andrews said:

"I don't know as there is anything in the story yet. I have heard that some of the stockholders of the gas company have been talking over the matter with some of our company. Whether it will develop into anything I don't know. You know one can't always believe what is rumored."

DEATHS.

Two Children Passed Into the Great Beyond.

Lizzie, the 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hill, died yesterday afternoon at their home near Calcutta from an attack of diphtheria. The funeral took place this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

The 7-months-old child of Mrs. Shaw died last night at her home in a boat house above the Thompson pottery from an attack of catarrhal fever. The funeral will take place tomorrow.

Among those already in mention two items. The first is All Wool French Challies, and we think the selection is excellent. They are in light, medium and dark colors, and the prices are 35c, 40c, 50c and 65c a yard. They are in the latest effects, and better styles than we have ever shown. The second item is yard wide Percales, 50 pieces to select from, in the latest colorings, and in light, dark and medium colors. Nothing in the market is more suitable than these goods for Ladies' Wrappers, Boys' Waists, Etc.

We Would Remind You

that the reduced prices on Cloaks still continue. All Cloaks carried over from last season, whether the price was $5.00 or $20.00, are now being closed out at $2.00; and Half Price on all this season's goods. Some very good things yet left in Cloth Capes, Ladies' and Misses' Jackets. This means you can buy a stylish jacket at from $2.50 to $7.50 that earlier in the season would have cost you from $5.00 to $15.00. If interested in Cloak buying, it will pay you to look this up.

A FIGHT WITH A LYNX.

Jim Berry Had a Desperate Struggle With a Savage Bobcat.

The ugliest appearing animal that ever walked a leg, killed a rabbit or fought a trap is the lynx, which is just as ugly as it looks ten months in the year and somewhat uglier during the other two. Not only will the lynx fight anything that walks the woods, but it will also tackle a visitor from the clearings, be he man or dog or half grown calf, if the occasion offers.

Jim Berry was hunting up in Maine, about 40 miles north of Greenville, when he and his friend, suddenly came upon the carcass of a caribou which a bear was eating. The bear made itself scarce, much to Jim's regret, as he wanted to kill the bear. Without saying anything to his friend he left camp the next day and started for the carcass, intending to watch it, in the hope that the bear would return. He waited and watched until about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when he began to think of returning to camp. A soft footfall back in the woods—the crafty step of some wild animal—just then sounded in his ears. Pretty soon the bear was chewing the caribou meat, and Jim could see it plainly. He leveled his buckshot gun and pulled the trigger, when the warbling muzzle was pointed in what he thought was the right direction. The beast went down, and Jim started for it. Then he stopped, with his mouth open. The beast had leaped to his feet and jumped sideways, with its back up.

Jim knew the yell, and he also recognized the humped back. It was a wounded lynx spilling for a fight. Not having time to level his gun to shoot, the man clubbed it, and the blow stunned the cat a little, but the beast got in a rake on the man's leg and tore his trousers and hide too. Another frantic sweep of the gun barrel laid the beast flat, and then a revolver bullet killed the animal. The buckshot had torn the top of the lynx's head—enough to make it angry.

A Wonderful Avenue.

Magnolia avenue, which has been the pride of Riverside from its founding, and which has won a national reputation as a boulevard, has had two defects. The streets leading to it were usually dusty and disagreeable, while the darkness of the avenue, owing to the dense foliage of the overhanging pepper trees, made it a rather dismal evening drive. All that is at an end. It is now possible to drive from the heart of town over macadamized streets, perfectly free from dust and mud, direct to the peerless Magnolia avenue, and if the drive be taken in the evening are lights are encountered every 800 feet, giving splendid illumination. When the avenue is reached, there is presented such a sight as few, if any, towns possess. The electric poles are but 124 feet apart, and from these brackets project about three feet. From each bracket hangs a cluster of three incandescent lights covered with a reflector, which throws the light on to the driveway.

As one stands at one end of this row of lights but four or five of them can be distinguished as individual lights, the remainder forming a continuous chain of fire which seemingly stretches away for untold miles beneath the verdant canopy of the arching pepper trees. Modern as is the scene, it impresses the beholder as an oriental fantasy worthy of the Spanish Moors. The imagined extent of the wondrous chain of fire, however, is in a degree an optical illusion. Instead of being miles in length, it is but a little over a mile. Instead of there being untold thousands of lights, one is amazed to learn that there are but 150, suspended from but 50 poles.

A soft footfall back in the woods—the crafty step of some wild animal—just then sounded in his ears. Pretty soon the bear was chewing the caribou meat, and Jim could see it plainly. He leveled his buckshot gun and pulled the trigger, when the wabbling muzzle was pointed in what he thought was the right direction. The beast went down, and Jim started for it. Then he stopped, with his mouth open. The beast had leaped to his feet and jumped sideways, with its back up.

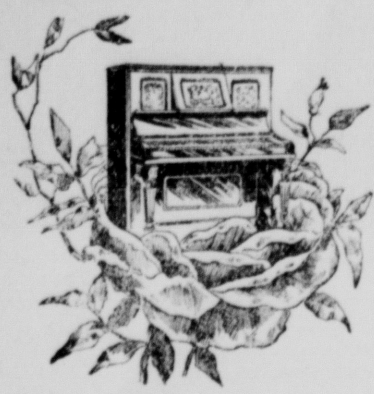

Jim knew the yell, and he also recognized the humped back. It was a wounded lynx spoiling for a fight. Not having time to level his gun to shoot, the man clubbed it, and the blow stunned the cat a little, but the beast got in a rake on the man's leg and tore his trousers and hide too. Another frantic sweep of the gun barrel laid the beast flat, and then a revolver bullet killed the animal. The buckshot had torn the top of the lynx's head—enough to make it angry. —Shooting and Fishing.

A Wonderful Avenue.

Magnolia avenue, which has been the pride of Riverside from its founding, and which has won a national reputation as a boulevard, has had two defects. The streets leading to it were usually dusty and disagreeable, while the darkness of the avenue, owing to the dense foliage of the overhanging pepper trees, made it a rather dismal evening drive. All that is at an end. It is now possible to drive from the heart of town over macadamized streets, perfectly free from dust and mud, direct to the peerless Magnolia avenue, and if the drive be taken in the evening are lights are encountered every 800 feet, giving splendid illumination. When the avenue is reached, there is presented such a sight as few, if any, towns possess. The electric poles are but 124 feet apart, and from these brackets project about three feet. From each bracket hangs a cluster of three incandescent lights covered with a reflector, which throws the light on to the driveway.

As one stands at one end of this row of lights but four or five of them can be distinguished as individual lights, the remainder forming a continuous chain of fire which seemingly stretches away for untold miles beneath the verdant canopy of the arching pepper trees. Modern as is the scene, it impresses the beholder as an oriental fantasy worthy of the Spanish Moors. The imagined extent of the wondrous chain of fire, however, is in a degree an optical illusion. Instead of being miles in length, it is but a little over a mile. Instead of there being untold thousands of lights, one is amazed to learn that there are but 150, suspended from but 50 poles. —Los Angeles Times.

TALKED OF A NEW LAW

Infirmity Directors and the Township Trustees.

HELD A LONG CONFERENCE

They Discussed the Statute Which Becomes Operative Next Month, and Decided That It Was Not a Good Thing to Have In Force.

The infirmity directors and the township trustees decided last night that the new law providing for the care of the poor is by no means a good measure, and great inconvenience will be experienced when it is enforced.

The law was passed at the last session of the legislature, and has already caused no end of discussion, because parties who have for years been connected with the work of relieving the poor cannot see how they are to do much good under the new law. It provides that all cases of distress must be cared for directly by the directors of the infirmity, any jurisdiction they might have had being taken from the trustees. The defect in the measure is easily seen. Suppose a man in destitute circumstances was hurt and needed medical attention the trustees could not as they do now, provide for his wants. They would be compelled to notify the infirmity, and wait until the officials there could send relief. Mr. Albright observed that if the law was enforced the first thing found necessary would be largely increased facilities at the infirmity. He also asked what was to be done with children when their parents were taken to the poor house. They could not under the law be sent there, and the Fairmount home would not receive them because they were not orphans. Representative Ashford supports the local trustees in their opinion as to the worthlessness of the law, and says that it will certainly be repealed at the next session of the legislature. It is all right for country townships like St. Clair and Madison, but is of no earthly use when applied to a city like East Liverpool, where there is more need of assistance in a day than would be in St. Clair in a year. Mr. McBride defended the law by saying paupers could be kept for $1.10 a week, but Mr. Albright showed how they kept many people for 50 cents in the same time.

The conference last night was attended by Directors McBride and Hoops and the trustees.

Later on we will tell you of the many good things now being prepared for the vacant spaces. For the present it's winter wear you want, as a present you are almost getting them. (no pun intended) Observe our advertising is curtailed, and other expanses reduced during this money losing period. We haven't the biggest advertisement, the boldest type, nor the largest stock just now, and our figures are the smallest, too. Couldn't afford this price clipping if we were overstocked. Have you ever thought how queer it sounds to hear some so-called merchants, who haven't perhaps a thousand or two dollars capital, telling of the $50,000 stock which they are willing to sell at half? What do you think of such fishy tales, anyway? Wouldn't the sheriff's office be a sine-cure if it were half true? Your liberal endorsement of our methods indicates your opinion.
